

Eso y más (versión en inglés)

Joan Sebastián

I'd climb all the mountains
The rivers, The valleys
To see you happy.

I'd fight all of the blizzards,
The famine, The dragons
Oh please believe me.

So that I might see myself in your lovely eyes.
So then I can rest in this new paradise.
Because I've decided that I really need you.
I've fallen in love.

So that I might see myself in your lovely eyes.
So then I can rest in this new paradise.
Because I've decided that I really need you.
There's nothing I won't do.

So that I make sure that you smile forever
I'd give up the most
The most precious thing I have owned is my freedom.
I'll give you all those.

And it'd be an honor to be under your command.
I'd be more than willing, obey each demand.
And if one lovely day I die right beside you,
It'd be happiness

And it'd be an honor to be under your command.
I'd be more than willing, obey each demand.
And if one lovely day I die right beside you,
It'd be happiness.
